“SEEING OFF THE GODS” (送神)

English: 31th Jan 2008 (Thursday)

Lunar: 24th day of the 12th Month. (6-8am) .

There is a saying that goes “seeing the gods off early while welcoming them back late”. Adhering to this saying, the northerners of China have a habit of seeing off the gods deep in the night of the 23rd day of the twelfth Lunar Month at the time of 8-10pm. However, the seeing off of gods will fall on the 24th day of the Lunar Month this year, with the best time being between 4-6am. For those households that have suffered a bereavement of a relative this lunar year, it would be advisable NOT to see off the gods and do any spring-cleaning this year.

“SHINING OF THE XU1 HAO4 ” (照虚耗)

For 7 days starting from the night that one sends out the gods to the 15th day of the first Lunar Month, it would be advisable that all the lights, both in and outside the house, to be switched on. This enables the house to give out light. If for any reason that one is unable to do so, at least one light should be left on in the living room at all times. This is because the light will rid the house from the unlucky qi4 (气) generated by the Fortune Items as well as sprits and other unlucky “stuff”. By doing so, one can hope to receive better luck and fortune for the upcoming year. There is a saying that says one need to shine a light from under one’s bed to receive good luck and fortune. However, it is actually not required. The saying just wants to emphasize the fact that one should not ignore any dead spots or corners in the house.

“GETTING RID OF THE USELESS” (除残)

English: 1st Feb 2007 (Friday)

Lunar: 25th day of the 12th Month (4pm-6pm)

The “getting rid of the useless” is also known as “clearing away of dust” (扫尘). However, it is more commonly known as spring-cleaning. Actually, all the furniture and appliances in the house should be cleaned regularly. The household should take the opportunity to clean the “shen2 ming2 ting1” during this time. This is because the statues of the gods, their plaques as well as the table in which they are housed, are not allowed to be cleaned during the course of the year. The traditional view of the Chinese is that they believed that everything under the sun has a “guardian god”. During the course of the year, everything in and outside the house should only be cleaned and should not be moved at whim. Only when the gods are see off and an auspicious day is chosen, then they are allowed to do spring-cleaning. Besides spring-cleaning, the walls should also be mend and re-painted. On top of that, brand-new new year couplets as well as auspicious words such as “spring” (春) and “fortune” (福) (written on red paper), should also be hung. Getting rid of the useless and bringing in the new is most suitable during this period.

“THE DECENDING OF THE HEAVENLY-GODS”(下降天神)

English: 1st Feb 2007 (Friday)

Lunar: 25th day of the 12th month

As the earth-gods would have returned to the heavenly court to make their reports, the heavenly-emperor would order some heavenly-gods to descend to earth in order to keep a check on the people on earth during this time. Therefore, during the period between the seeing off and welcoming back of the earth-gods, the people on earth will keep a tight rein on their behaviours and actions so as not to be punished by the heavenly-gods. Those who are pious and pure of heart can chose to burn incense at the crack of dawn to welcome the heavenly-emperor, and received his blessings in return.

“KOU3 SHU4 PORRIDGE” (口数粥)

After dusk on the day that the heavenly-gods descend upon earth, the household can cook some red-bean soup, porridge to share among the family members. This is to increase the good luck in the house, as well as getting rid of any bad luck and sickness.

“SEALING THE “WEN2 CHANG1” PEN & SEAL” (封文昌笔、封印)

English: 3rd Feb 2008 (Sunday)
Lunar: 27th day of the 12th month. (12pm-2pm)

The sealing of the seal is part of the preparations for Lunar New Year. The seal can only be sealed on certain days, namely the 20th, 24th, 27th as well as the eve of the Lunar New Year. The sealing of the seal is further divided into 3 classes; namely the gods, the bureaucrats and the common people. Some people close shop in advance to prepare for this, however, the best time is still the eve of the Lunar New Year. The method for sealing the seal is as followed: firstly, put the seals in the order of gods, bureaucrats, company and personal inside a box or a bag. Next, write the year, month, day and time 丁亥年十二月廿七日吉时 封印大吉 or 封笔大吉 on a piece of zhu1 sha1 paper so called red paper (朱砂纸). As for the wen2 chang1 pen, one can consider buying a more expensive pen for signing important documents and checks. Alternatively, one can also use the pen for exam purposes.

The year, month, day and time should also be written on a piece of zhu1 sha1 paper as well. For this year, the best timing to do this is would be during the wu1 hour(午时) for day operation business.

“THE OPENING OF DOOR ON THE 1ST DAY OF LUNAR NEW YEAR” (元旦开门)

English: 7th Feb 2008 (Thursday)

Lunar: 1st day of the 1st lunar month. (12am-2am / 2am-4am / 10am-12pm)

The burning of incense and opening the door is the most things in the itinerary on the 1st day of the Lunar New Year. Besides washing of one's hands and burning incense for the gods and sprits and praying to ancestors, one should also choose the correct timing to open the main door of the house. When opening the main door, one should chant the words “Fortune Door, Fortune Door open wide, gold, silver and precious jewels come on inside” (财门财门大大开, 金银珠宝滚进来). This can work effectively in the opening of the “Fortune Door”. The main door should be opened as early as possible. For the upcoming year, one can choose to open it at the zi3 hour (子时), according to the common practice or during the chou3 hour (丑卯时), si 1 (巳时)。

English: 7th Feb 2008 (Thursday)

Lunar: 1st day of the 1st lunar month (8pm-10pm / 10pm-12am)

Since the household has opened its main door in the day, one should also know the proper way to shut it in order to trap all the good luck in the house for long periods. The best time for the upcoming year would be during the xu3 hour (戌时) or Hai1(亥时). This is because there will only be good energy around. In addition, this period will also be free of bad omens and sprits. The door needs to be shut for only 120 minutes before being reopened.

The best time for the household to travel out of the house would be between 10am-12pm. However, it is not to say that one has to travel towards the auspicious directions as soon as one steps out of the house. One actually should first take some time to consider the terrain and decide on the starting point. For that day, one can choose the most favourable starting point. Some of the best place to start from would be at where the ground is solid or at a cross junction. When it is time to move off, one should concentrate all of one's mental strength and bow towards the four directions in a clockwise direction. Next, one should clasp one's hands together and ask for blessings from the gods. One should first start with his or her name and then voiced the direction where he or she is heading on the first day of the New Year. Next, one should ask for her wish for that year. For the wish, one can only choose one kind and have to be the same wish for the next 2 years as well. This is because 3 years is considered as one cycle. After making the wish, one should then "sound the cannon". When taking the first step, males should start with the left leg while females should start with the right leg. Embarking on the journey, one should remain silent and shall not double-back for anything. If one should meet with any inauspicious things, one should quickly chant "ji2 li4 ji2 xiang2, ji2 xiang2 ru2 yi4" (吉利吉祥, 吉祥如意).

Last but not least, one should also wear a brand new set of clothing and carry $168 in new notes in a red packet before embarkation. The notes must be new and in the denominations of $100, $50, $10, $5, $2 and $1.

WELCOMING THE “FIVE ROADS” GOD OF FORTUNE” (接五路財神)

English: 11st Feb 2008 (Monday)

Lunar: 5th day of the 1st lunar month.

During the period between midnight and 2am, one should prepare fresh flowers, tea and fruits, 3 meats and wine to welcome the “Five Road god of fortune”. Fish and mutton is a must. The altar with the offerings should be placed in the living room, facing outwards. If the god of fortune decide to take a walk around the house, that household will be blessed this year. Another way to go about this is to collect all the dust and dirt gathered from the 2nd day to the 5th day of the lunar year and emptied them at a cross junction. On the way back home, one should not turn back one’s head and should proceed to pick up a stone (the size of a fist) as the stabilizer stone to contain the fortune that he or she has been blessed with. This stone can be placed on top of the safe, fortune position or in the deep recesses of the house. A full cup of water should be placed in front of the stone, which should take around a month to evaporate. Only when all the water has evaporated, then new water should be added.
